DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference sign(s) not mentioned in the description: Figures 4D and 4E contain the reference sign 310, which is not discussed in the specification. A proposed drawing correction, corrected drawings, or amendment to the specification to add the reference sign(s) in the description, are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lee (6,245,635).

Art Unit: 1765

As to claim 1, Lee disclose a method of etching a stacked structure of silicon layer (316), an insulation layer (304) and a silicon substrate (300), wherein a reactive ion etch is performed to form trenches through insulation layer and the trench is filled with a silicon layer (col.4, lines 28-58).

Lee also discloses that the fill material is patterned to form an etched region (col.5, lines 30-38), which reads on applicant's step (d) of "patterning the silicon layer to form first etch regions, which pass through the silicon layer, to include the trenches.

As to claim 2, Lee teaches that patterning the silicon layer also forming a second etched region between trenches that is narrower than the first etch region (see figure 3D).

As to claim 3, Lee teaches that removing the filling material from along with the insulation layer to expose the silicon substrate (see figure 3E), which reads on applicant's step (d) comprises removing silicon filled in the trench to expose the silicon substrate.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Leobandung et al (6,180,486) disclose a method of filling a trench with silicon material but fail to teach that the filling material is patterned to form an etched region on the trench area;

Hopkins et al (6,187,685) disclose a process for etching a silicon substrate using RIE, wherein notching at the interface of oxide and silicon substrate may be eliminated (see figure 1).
